Risk of Modern Slavery Practices

Baxter procures finished goods and raw materials from various domestic and international suppliers. As would be expected for any business supported by both domestic and international supply chains, the potential risk of modern slavery practices needs to be managed by responsible and ethical business practices. Baxter continuously monitors supply chains, and reviews existing and emerging trends that may indicate increased risk factors for modern slavery and forced labour.

Actions to Assess and Address Risks

As an organisation, we appreciate the real and global issue of modern slavery and human trafficking and foster a culture of the highest standards of ethics and business conduct with respect to all human rights issues.

Employees and Contractors

Baxter employs a robust local policy framework to prevent all illegal working, including ‘right to work’ checks for all employees and regular audits. For contract workers, a preferred supplier list of labour hire agencies is maintained. Preferred labour hire agencies are used when engaging contractors, and these agencies are subject to Baxter’s due diligence and review processes prior to contracting and throughout their relationship with Baxter.

Standards and Codes

In order to manage and address the risk of modern slavery and forced labour, Baxter, alongside its affiliates forming part of the global Baxter corporate group, complies with the requirements as set out below. Accordingly, where Baxter utilises international supply chains managed by other Baxter affiliates, those affiliates are also required to comply with the following requirements.

Baxter’s Code of Conduct

All Baxter employees are required to comply with Baxter’s Code of Conduct. Baxter’s Code of Conduct defines the core principles that govern employee behaviour and business conduct and provides tools and resources to help employees comply with the same.

The company conducts mandatory ongoing training and a Code of Conduct intranet site to keep employees informed and aware of Baxter’s ethics and compliance requirements and company expectations.

Baxter’s Global Human Rights Policy

Baxter complies with the Global Human Rights Policy applicable to the Baxter corporate group globally. A copy of this Policy can be accessed using the following link: <https://www.baxter.com/policies-positions/global-human-rights>

Baxter's Ethics & Compliance Standards for Suppliers

Our commitment to fostering a culture of compliance extends to our relationships with suppliers, and we recognise our responsibility to positively influence our suppliers.

As a condition of contracting with Baxter, we require our suppliers to agree to Baxter's Ethics and Compliance Standards for Suppliers, which incorporate rules against all forms of modern slavery. A copy of these Standards can be accessed using the following link: https://www.baxter.com/sites/g/files/ebysai3896/files/2023-02/Supplier_Standards_English_2023.pdf

Specifically, the Standards prohibit our suppliers of products and services from violating of laws governing workers' human rights, including human trafficking and slavery. The company requires our suppliers to comply with our standards and expectations as well as all laws governing purchasing.

Baxter's Conflict Minerals Policy and Position Statement

Baxter complies with the Conflict Minerals Policy and Position Statement Human Rights Policy applicable to the Baxter corporate group globally. A copy of this Policy can be accessed using the following link: <https://www.baxter.com/policies-positions/conflict-minerals-policy-position-statement>

Reporting Mechanisms

Baxter has a policy on whistleblowing which provides a mechanism for our employees or relevant stakeholders to report human rights concerns. In addition, Baxter's Ethics and Compliance Helpline (a telephone and online resource) is available to employees, suppliers and other stakeholders as another channel to report or seek guidance on any issues of concern. This reporting mechanism can assist in identifying vulnerable people and provide them with necessary support and referrals to appropriate care and services.

Assessment of Actions to Address Risks

Due Diligence & Understanding Risk in Our Supply Chains

On an annual basis, as a global group, Baxter Healthcare utilises independent third-party resources to review certain suppliers to evaluate several non-financial performance factors and conduct supplier corporate social responsibility risk assessments. Many of our suppliers also comply with global regulations regarding the prevention of modern slavery and unethical labour practices.

In 2022 Baxter Healthcare as a global group collaborated with EcoVadis to conduct corporate responsibility surveys of participating suppliers' corporate responsibility programs and performance in areas including labour and human rights, ethics, and sustainable procurement. Particularly, this survey assesses whether these suppliers have policies and programs to address human rights, including human trafficking and slavery (child, forced or bonded labour). Baxter can access detailed supplier scorecards with information about strengths, benchmark comparisons, and improvement areas, via the EcoVadis platform. Baxter also leverages the EcoVadis system to determine if follow-up action is necessary, and plans to include survey scores in business reviews with strategic suppliers in the future.

We recognise that our supply chain due diligence should be focused on areas of highest risk. We are therefore committed to continuously strengthen our risk assessment process, focusing on countries or materials/products of concern. This is an iterative process, and as part of our management system approach to labour standards and sourcing risks, we aim to continuously improve the quality of information we hold on supply chain risk, combining it with information from other due diligence activities, and taking appropriate action if concerns are found.

In 2022, as a global group, Baxter Healthcare created a corporate responsibility risk profile for certain Baxter suppliers. These profiles include risk mapping based on location, performance, and goods and services provided. The profiles assist Baxter to prioritise suppliers with the greatest corporate social responsibility-related risk factors for additional due diligence or corrective action.

Continuous Improvement to Ensure Compliance & Ethical Frameworks

Conflict Minerals Policy

As part of Baxter's commitment to sustainability, including its policy on protecting human rights in our own operations along with our supply chain, as a global group Baxter's goal is to source raw materials that require the use of tin, tantalum, tungsten or gold (known as 3TG) from conflict-free sources.

Baxter expects its suppliers to have appropriate policies and due diligence measures in place that will allow us to reasonably determine if products and raw materials containing conflict minerals originate from conflict-free sources, including those from the Democratic Republic of the Congo (DRC) and its surrounding areas.

In support of this, Baxter (in conjunction with Baxter affiliates globally) has and will:

- Exercise due diligence of its relevant suppliers consistent with the OECD Due Diligence Guidance for Responsible Supply Chains of Minerals from Conflict-Affected and High-Risk Areas and expect those suppliers to do the same with their own suppliers;
- Engage and collaborate with its suppliers to work toward a DRC conflict-free supply chain for Baxter's products;
- In August 2015, Baxter's parent company launched its 2015 Conflict Minerals Program which included the annual survey of key suppliers. Baxter continues to annually survey key suppliers in its supply chain and complete an annual Baxter CMRT (available to customers upon request at: Global_CORP_Material_Compliance@baxter.com);
- Continue to collaborate with suppliers to help Baxter demonstrate measurable improvement in ensuring that the company is sourcing 3TG responsibly and from conflict-free sources;
- Through its affiliated company Baxter Healthcare Corporation, support responsible sourcing of 3TG by participating as a member of the Responsible Minerals Initiative and donating to this organization's smelter audit program; and
- Will continue to monitor, adapt, and modify our due diligence practices to conform to the recognized industry best practices.

Baxter's ultimate parent company, Baxter International Inc, filed a Form SD and Conflict Minerals Report with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission for the year ended December 31, 2022.

Conclusion

Baxter is committed to continuous improvement in our approach to managing supply chain risk. Responsibility for ensuring we meet our obligations requires cross-functional collaboration involving many internal commercial and functional business units, including Procurement, Human Resources, EHS & Sustainability, and Legal, and has the sponsorship of Baxter's Australia and New Zealand Senior Leadership Team.

Baxter continues to monitor and review its compliance processes, to ensure transparency and anti-slavery compliance across its Australian business and supply chain.
